Solon Claims GIs Betrayed By Pentagon

MERCER, Wis. (UPI) — A Wisconsin congressman said Friday the Pentagon has "betrayed and demoralized" the state's 32nd National Guard Division in federal service at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski, a Republican, said the famed "Red Arrow" division lacks food, clothing, bedding, fuel, equipment and even shoes.

ASKS PROBE

He said he has asked Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee, to authorize a full congressional investigation into charges of "negligence and mismanagement" of the unit.

O'Konski, a member of the Armed Services Committee, said the charges were made by soldiers in the division.

"If the charges of negligence and mismanagement are found to be true, there should be some court martial starting right in the Pentagon in Washington," he said.

"The congressman said he wanted to emphasize that the division officers themselves were 'not responsible for the situation at Ft. Lewis.'"

"The fault is at the Pentagon," he said.

O'Konski said he has received "10 different petitions from men in the division and none of them has less than 50 signatures."

"One whole company from my district which includes extreme northern Wisconsin signed a petition, both enlisted men and officers," he said. "I won't mention which unit because I fear they will take it out on them."

O'Konski said that "never before have I been flooded with protests and complaints of negligence such as exist at Ft. Lewis. That includes World War II and the Korean War."

"There is a lack of food, clothing, bedding and even fuel has to be rationed," O'Konski said. "No winter clothing is available. Tanks are idle because there are no repair parts. Only one bed sheet has been issued to each man since they have been at Ft. Lewis."

"The gallant 32nd Division has been betrayed and demoralized."

U.S. Revises Troops Air Safety Rules

Military Checks
Due Of Planes
Hauling Soliders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has directed non-scheduled airlines to submit to strict military safety inspection if they want to carry troops in the United States.

McNamara's directive Friday came nine days after 74 Army recruits perished in an Imperial Airlines plane crash near Richmond, Va. The new order is effective immediately.

MUST COMPLY

This means non-scheduled moving troops within the United States must comply with the same strict Military Air Transport Service rules that cover transportation of military passengers on overseas flights.

Until now, internally operated non-scheduled lines have had to meet regulations only of the Federal Aviation Agency and Civil Aeronautics Board.

McNamara told a news conference that, in addition to safety, MATS will concern itself with non-scheduled airlines' financial stability and ability to meet schedules.

That appeared aimed at some of the 29 non-scheduled which are reported in shaky financial condition. Officials said a line's financial condition influences its ability to maintain its planes properly.

McNamara did not say some had expected, rule out the use of non-scheduled airlines for military.

Four Saved After Lake Erie Storm

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A 60-foot yacht with four persons aboard was towed into port by the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Ojibwa late Friday after a harrowing night in a Lake Erie gale.

The storm had sunk a smaller Coast Guard boat that tried to reach the stricken yacht earlier, but the three crewmen aboard that boat made it to shore on a raft.

The two men and two women on the Detroit-based yacht Howdy appeared none the worse for their 12 hours adrift on the stormy lake, followed by an all-day ride at the end of a towline.

The owner and skipper, Aurelian F. Wigle, 45, a Detroit stockbroker, said the four would go on to Florida in the yacht as planned.

I'd say the damage was about $150, that's all," he said. "We hope to be under way in a couple of days, as soon as carpenters can get to work on it."

With Wigle on the Howdy were his brother, Norma Wigle, 64, his brother, Gordon, 33, and Gordon's wife, Esther, 33, all of Detroit.

The older Mrs. Wigle said more than two feet of water covered the floor of the cabin before the Ojibwa reached the yacht 45 miles southwest of Buffalo.

Wigle said the yacht's auxiliary engine failed about 3 a.m. Thursday.

Senator Soaper Says

There are reports that Stalinski, is to be named Khru-shech, who has always been jealous of the one in California, may christen it Disneyland.

So far a number of prominent political figures have said they are not interested in the presidency in 1964 and there probably are some other candidates, too.

Remote corners of the world are being visited by international leaders, who are greeted by cheering crowds and camel drivers with their suitcases packed.

Sen. Hayden Given Praise By Kennedy

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — President Kennedy Friday night warmly praised Sen. Carl Hayden for "invaluable" help on the "new frontier" and strongly hinted he wanted the 84-year-old pioneer lawmaker to seek re-election next year.

Neither the nation nor Arizona could afford to lose the benefit of his experience and seniority," Kennedy said in a speech prepared for delivery at Friday night's anniversary dinner honoring Hayden's almost 50 years in Congress. Hayden, second in line of presidential succession following the death of Speaker Sam Rayburn, told newsmen last week he had not decided whether to seek a new six-year term.

REVERSES PLAN

Many of Friday night's guests of both political parties were or had served with Rayburn in Congress, including Vice President Lyndon Johnson who first cancelled plans to attend, but decided Friday to go ahead with his original plans.

Kennedy, Johnson, Hayden and many others go Saturday to Bonham, Tex., for the Rayburn funeral.

U. S. Contract Awarded For Moon Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Chrysler Corp., Detroit, Friday won a $200 million contract for production of the Saturn rocket S-1 main stage.

The Saturn is intended to send an unmanned space craft to the moon.

The contract will be negotiated for production at the Michoud plant of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration 15 miles east of New Orleans. NASA said 20 S-1 boosters would be built by Chrysler under a contract extending through 1966.

The booster, powered by eight H-1 engines, will be 82 feet high and 22 feet in diameter.

It will be the main stage of the moon vehicle and it also will be used to place the Apollo three-man space laboratory in orbit around the earth.

CONGO VIOLENCE

U.N. Gets Plea For Troops Hike

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. commander in the Congo asked for more troops Friday to deal with mounting violence, but Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon promptly questioned the need for reinforcements.

Gen. Sean McKewen, Irish commander of the 15,400-man force made his bid at a private session of the 18-nation Congo advisory committee announced by Acting Secretary-General U. Thant.

Krishna Menon first took issue with McKewen in the private meeting. Later he told the Security Council: "If 15,000 troops are not enough to police the Congo, then there is something wrong with the troops."

GETS ATTENTION

The remarks of the Indian leader or were given considerable attention because India's 5,700 troops in the Congo are the largest of the entire U.N. force in the Congo.

Krishna Menon told the council "India might or might not be able to supply more troops."

The advisory committee met.

STUNNED BY SENTENCE

Mate Of Runaway Heiress Is Jailed

NEW YORK (AP) — Andrei Porumbescu was sent to jail Friday for 30 days for his runaway marriage of 18 months ago with typewriter heiress Benedicte Gamble. He was escorted in handcuffs to the cell.

The Romanian-born Porumbescu, who had come into court hounding to clear himself of contempt charges, appeared stunned at the jail sentence.

Magistrate Peter M. Horn sentenced him to 30 days and fined him $250, with another 30 days to be served if the fine is not paid.

Porumbescu, 36, ran off to Paris with Miss Benedicte in 1959 after her late grandmother, Katherine Geddes Benedict, bitterly opposed their romance. Gamble was 18 at the time, and Porumbescu was married.

After their return to this country, Magistrate Horn ordered year after taxes.

U.S. Jurists Split 2-1 In Miss. Ruling

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A three-judge federal court refused by a 2-1 vote Friday to order an end to Mississippi transportation segregation. The majority said the case should go through state court first.

Judge Richard T. Rives of Montgomery, Ala., from the 5th circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans issued a sharply worded opinion dissenting from the majority view of the two Mississippi district judges.

RIVES CRITICAL

"The continued refusal to rule on the bus case, although it has been pending since June 9, is a violation of this court's duty under the law," Rives wrote.

District judges Sidney Mize (Tulsa), who ruled the case should go through federal courts first, made no mention of the time it took the matter under state court. The suit was filed in June, a testimony was taken in September.

The majority opinion said it court had a duty to abstain from passing on the issue but should have the case on its docket in the state courts had a chance pass on the issues, including meaning of state laws.

"This court should simply sit on its hands until adequate and proper remedies provided for by statutes of the state of Mississippi should be exhausted," the opinion said.

The two district judges said there would be injury to any person during such procedure and the principle of routing cases through state courts was supported by U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

In his dissenting opinion, Rives said "there are statutes and" (Continued On Page Two-A)

Grand Jury 'Tap' Prob Is Resume

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The grand jury resumed its investigation of alleged wire tap in the Baton Rouge area Friday and heard three staff members of the state's Sovereignty Commission and several other witnesses.

U.S. Attorney M. Hepburn excused Sovereignty Commission Chairman Frank Volker, Jr. Lake Providence from testifying although Volker was present. Staff members called before jury were John Deor, executive director of the commission; Myrick, investigator, George Stevens.

Other witnesses included Charles "Buck" Klempeter, an attorney; Mrs. G. Hamann and Ernest Bordon, of Baton Rouge.

Klempeter is the former partner of federal Dist. Judge Gordon West of Baton Rouge. Thursday ordered many to cause why he should not stop from issuing subpoenas East Baton Rouge Dist. Attorney Pitcher Jr.

Judge West set a hearing on matter for 2 p.m. Monday.

The grand jury is investigating charges that the telephones of East Baton Rouge ministers rabbis were tapped after signed an affirmation of religious principles that scored racial discrimination.

The jury opened its probe several weeks ago and heard 20 witnesses, including a number of the state's segregation leaders.

and was greeted by a crowd of 1,000 at the airport, including one carrying placard criticizing "muzzling" of the military. Most of the crowd, including Hayden and Republican Gov. Paul Fenton, gave Kennedy a warm "Howdy Jack" welcome. Hayden, a war hero, was welcomed by another sign that read "Muzzles for dogs, not military," and "Let's do something about Castro."

The Kennedy schedule was revised to permit him to attend naval services for Speaker Sam Rayburn in Bonham, Tex., Saturday. Originally Kennedy was to go to San Diego Saturday morning for Navy training maneuvers.

Instead he will fly to Bonham. The President expected to fly from Bonham to Los Angeles for a $100-a-plate dinner at the Paladium in Hollywood Saturday night.

At a briefing shortly after the arrival in Phoenix, Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said the President would bypass the San Diego portion of the trip. The naval maneuvers will go on as scheduled Saturday. Salinger said with a naval aide representing the President as an observer.

Immediately after the presidential plane landed from Seattle, Wash., Kennedy disclosed he had received a message expressing shock, indignation and sorrow over the killing of 13 Italian airmen in the Congo. He wired President Giovanni Gronchi "The Italian airmen died in support of deals of mankind, and in the service of peace."

troop movement nor did he even mention any specific non-scheduled airline.

However, he did rule that defense personnel traveling as individuals at government expense will use only the regular scheduled airlines.

In a wide-ranging news conference, his first in two months, McNamara said also.

—The United States has speeded military aid to Communist-battered South Viet Nam and is discussing possible further action with the Saigon government.

—The Berlin crisis military buildup is going along "very satisfactorily," with 300,000 men added and about 45,000 reinforcements sent to Europe.

"We have no plans at the present time for calling additional large forces to active duty," he said.

—Although decisions are still being made, "I do feel confident" that defense spending will rise next year.

—In event of nuclear war with the Soviet Union, "I think it is at least as likely that our cities would be attacked as that our military targets would be attacked."

—The Defense Department has not reached a conclusion whether to recommend money for starting production of the Nike-Zeus antimissile missile.

—The program of identifying buildings that could be used as civil defense shelters is ahead of schedule and may be finished several months ahead of the December 1962 target date.

—Analysis of the recent Soviet nuclear weapons tests is incomplete and it is far too early for any interpretation of the way in which those tests may have affected their military strength.

—Pentagon officials wish to discuss with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, during his coming visit here, Adenauer's proposal that North Atlantic Treaty Organization powers be given independent control of their nuclear weapons.

—The buildup of NATO ground forces is proceeding, but is slightly under the objective. Gen. Lauris Norstad, NATO commander in Europe, said this week he expects about 25 effective divisions by Jan. 1.

—McNamara is inclined to think the U.S. Army strength goal for next year will be higher than 920,000, a figure reportedly given to the Army as a tentative ceiling in planning next year's budget.

Stocks Close Anniversary Event For Week On Ends Here Tonight Lower Note

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks ran up against a mild selling wave Friday and closed lower despite a burst of buying at the close.

Steels, autos, chemicals, and many of the stocks which figured prominently in the market's rise to new peaks earlier in the week, were among the weaker issues.

Bethlehem Steel was among the beneficiaries of the late buying, closing unchanged after being off a solid fraction, and U. S. Steel, which finished off 3/4, the latter was down well over a point at its worst.

Stores and food shares were strong on improving retail sales generally. Woolworth added a point and Korvette more than 3/4. Oils were mostly mixed, except for Texaco which lost small fraction and Plymouth which gained more than 2. Jersey Standard was unchanged and Standard of California dropped 1/4.

The Dow Jones industrial stock average closed at 729.53 off 3.80, rails added 0.79 to 151.02, and utilities finished at 135.79 up 1.00, and a new 12-year high for this indicator.

Among the blue chips, Procter & Gamble lost 3/4, Union Carbide 1/4, Sears, Roebuck 1/4, International Nickel a point, Eastman Kodak 1/4, and Allied Chemical and Alcoa 1/4 each.

Pennsylvania Railroad was the most active stock with 69,000 shares. It closed at 17 1/2 up 1/4. Of the 1,332 issues that crossed the tape, 573 advanced, 100 to new highs, and 522 declined, 9 to new lows. Trading amounted to 3,960,000 shares from 3,980,000 the day before.

On the American Exchange, stocks were mostly irregular with good fallout protection now.

It was very difficult to select a winner—all the costumes were outstanding," commented the judge.

Fred Beckett, chairman of the Greater Monroe Downtown Association's special events committee in charge of the program, pointed out that the managers of the downtown stores all feel they were winners.

"We have had the fullest cooperation from all of our employees, and we are highly indebted to all of them. They certainly have made this anniversary observation a success."

In addition to the Poverty Point 25,000 year old Indian relic collection on display in the lobby of Central Savings Bank, some fantastic Indian articles are seen in the show windows of The Togg.

nances which on their face require segregation of the races in any transportation facilities and they should be declared unconstitutional, null and void.

"It should be declared unconstitutional to use laws which purport to deal with the maintenance of law and order, or any other laws, to maintain segregation of the races in transportation facilities."

To that end, it should be declared that no passenger or intended passenger is subject to arrest for disorderly conduct or breach of peace unless the passenger is disorderly or does something more than occupy facility or place in transportation. To arrest a passenger under such circumstances is state enforcement of segregation, and therefore unconstitutional.

During testimony when the court heard witnesses in September, officials of the city and state said that the "Freedom Riders" were arrested because their presence would touch off a breach of the peace.

Rives discounted the state contention that a threatened danger was adequate cause for what he called a "denial of constitutional rights."

Early Release Policy Revised For Servicemen

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon said Friday men due to leave military service during the Christmas-New Year holiday period will not be released early for Christmas as in past years "due to efforts to increase and strengthen the armed forces."

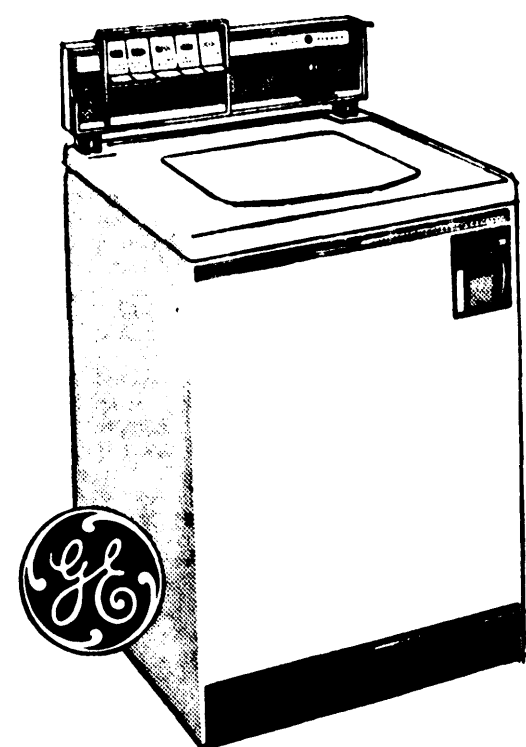

Suspension of the early release policy was announced a day after the Army had made public plans to permit Christmas leaves for the largest possible number of troops, including draftees and recently called up National Guardsmen and Reservists.

Although the two acts appeared to be at cross purposes, officials said there is no conflict.

This suspension will apply only to the general policy established in previous years of early release of personnel whose enlistments or obligated terms of service would expire during the Christmas-New Year holiday period, the Defense Department said.

"It does not abrogate the normal authority of the service secretaries to release personnel early under certain circumstances, nor does it preclude granting of leaves or passes in accordance with current policies."

State Park Requested At Poverty Point

Representative Lawrence Gibbs was the first to sign a petition Friday urging Gov. Jimmie H. Davis and the Louisiana Legislature to establish Poverty Point as a state park.

The petition, originated by officials at Central Savings Bank, will be available at the bank today and from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday, for anyone to sign.

Both today and tomorrow, a famed collection of Indian relics from Poverty Point near Epps will be on display in the bank's main lobby.

Carl Alexander of Epps, who collected the articles, will be on hand to discuss them.

The petition calling for establishment of the park also commends West Carroll Rep. Lonnie Richmond of Oak Grove for introducing a bill to establish the Poverty Point archaic site during the last session of the Legislature.

The petition warns that the valuable site, "if not given early proper care and attention, will likely disappear through the ravages of erosion and misuse."

Some of the Indian mounds already are crumbling.

Recognized as one of the most outstanding archeological sites on the North American continent, Poverty Point holds the remnants of a highly civilized tribe of Paleo Indians who lived there from 2,000 to 5,000 years ago.

"It is in the best interest of the people of Louisiana and the people of our nation that this treasure of untold value should be preserved for this and on coming generations of Americans," the petition states.

It predicts that thousands of tourists would be attracted to North Louisiana if the site were recognized and publicized for its true value.

Commission Neutral On Toll Proposal

Public Service Commissioner John McKeithen said yesterday that neither he nor the Public Service Commission have taken any position on the proposal by Southern Bell Telephone Company to provide toll free service between Monroe and Bastrop and certain adjacent communities with an increase of the flat rate.

McKeithen issued the following statement on his position concerning the proposed telephone service tie-in for the Monroe-Bastrop area.

"It has been the policy of the Public Service Commission in the past similar cases to allow the people in the effected communities to make up their own minds on the issue.

The commission will not under any circumstances, however, approve the plan which the telephone company is presenting the people of Monroe until, and when, we are convinced that substantially more than a majority of the subscribers here desires the same.

"I have suggested to the telephone company that we would want written petitions, post cards, letters, or some other appropriate ballot from the subscribers as evidence of their wishes.

"Our auditors and engineers will be asked to determine what savings if any the telephone company will make by virtue of the change in the type of service and if the new rates which they proposed to submit, are found to yield more revenue than is required.

"Taking into consideration the above factors, we of course have the power to order a reduction."

In the event of acceptance, rate increases would be as follows:

Bastrop — residential, $1 per month; business, $4.50 per month; two-party, residential, 85 cents; business, $3.75; four-party, 75 cents for residences; $3 for business; eight-party, 75 cents for residence, $1 for business. 6,621 telephones in service.

Mer Rouge — one-party residential, $1.25 per month; one-party business, $5.50 per month; two-party, $1.10 for residential; two-party residential; two-party business, $4.50; eight-party, $1 for residence, $1.25 for business. 458 telephones in service.

Monroe — one-party residential 40 cents per month; business $1.50 per month; two-party residential, 35 cents; two-party business, $1.25; four-party, 25 cents for residences, $1 for business; eight-party, 25 cents for residences and 40 cents for business.

G. W. McCormick, 67, died late Friday at his residence on the West Natchitoches Road in New Monroe He was a retired employee of the Monroe Utilities Commission.

Arrangements for services are incomplete but will be under direction of the Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Survivors include a brother, Louis McCormick, Shreveport, and a great niece, Mrs. Betty Walker, of Memphis, Tenn.

Negro Arrested In Kansas To Be Tried Here

A 21-year-old Negro wanted by authorities here in connection with the simple burglary September 6 of the Club 21 has been jailed in Independence, Kan.

Sheriff Bailey Grant said Friday. Deputies reported the apprehension of Donnell Hadley, alias "Duck," on a warrant issued here in October. They said Hadley had signed a waiver of extradition and that a man would be dispatched Saturday to return him to Monroe.

Taken the early September burglary, according to officers, were approximately $75 worth of liquor and $70 in cash from a pinball machine. Entrance to the Winnboro Road establishment reportedly was gained through a window gap opening in the rear of the building.

Hadley will stand trial in Fourth District Court.

Early Christmas Mailing Urged By Postmaster

West Monroe Postmaster Homer B. Roark emphasized Friday the importance of mailing early this Christmas to avoid the traditional holiday rush and congestion in postal service during the season.

He predicted Christmas mail this year probably would again set a record. Last year's volume was tops so far.

Roark suggested packages going to distant points should be mailed early in December, preferably by December 10. Packages with local destinations should be mailed on or before December 15, "to avoid a lot of headaches."

Kentucky Bird Has Mind Of Own

GEORGETOWN, Ky. AP—The Kentucky cardinal, the state's official bird, has a mind of his own, a Georgetown doctor says.

As Dr. C. R. Lewis was about to enter the emergency room at Georgetown hospital, he discovered a cardinal, looking wan, in front of the door.

Lewis took the bird inside and a nurse diagnosed the bird as being treated, the bird has shown tlepage. Benny Littlepage, Billy marked improvement, Lewis said. Thurman, and T. O. Bancroft.

Area Residents Asked To Aid Search For Son

A frantic Ohio couple have appealed to Northeast Louisiana and area residents to join in their search for their missing 15-year-old son.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Crawford, Avon Lake, Ohio, asks that anyone who has any information on Bruce Crawford, or who sees him, report this to the local or State Police. Officials here will forward the information to Ohio.

Bruce is 15, five feet nine inches tall, weighs 135 pounds, has brown hair and brown eyes, and braces on his lower teeth. He wears contact lenses and has a hairline scar over the bridge of his nose.

When last seen he was wearing medium blue trousers, gray "banlon" short sleeve sweater, black loafers, charcoal grey suede zipper front jacket and may be carrying a large blue gym bag.

"We are frantic and heart-sick," write the Crawfords. "Any information at all will be greatly appreciated. If you have seen Bruce and have contacted the authorities, we would appreciate a post card telling us that you have done so."

Rusk Favors Removal Of Berlin Wall

WASHINGTON, UPI — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Friday that the Russian-built wall dividing East and West Berlin eventually should be torn down.

But Rusk declined to endorse at this time the view of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that removal of the wall should be a part of any Berlin agreement. He indicated the question may be discussed with Adenauer after the chancellor arrives here Sunday for talks with President Kennedy.

The secretary described the wall as "that most extraordinary and repulsive feature of the German landscape" which was a "monument to Communist failure in East Berlin and East Germany."

At a far ranging news conference, Rusk also said the United States was "horrified, distressed and shocked" by the murder of 11 Italian airmen by mutinous Congolese soldiers. He called on all nations to step up their support for U.N. efforts to unite the Congo.

In an obvious reference to Russia, the secretary called on those nations which "are trying to undermine or frustrate the United Nations" in the Congo to cease their efforts and help end "anarchy, terror and destruction" in the region.

The secretary was asked about Adenauer's call for a nuclear-armed force in NATO so that Allied forces in Europe could use atomic weapons without waiting for an order from the U.S. President as now required by American law.

Rusk said that President Kennedy's offer at Ottawa last May of six nuclear armed submarines for NATO "still stands," at the alliance can agree on how they should be controlled and used. He said the United States would welcome any suggestions from its NATO allies about how the alliance itself could have a nuclear force.

Turning to southeast Asia, Rusk said that mounting attacks by Communist-led guerrillas against South Viet Nam some day may have to be laid before the United Nations. As for the present, he said, the United States is stepping up its aid to that country and is making some changes in the type of equipment sent there.

On Berlin, Rusk said, Russia had submitted no new proposals for solution of the German problem despite some reports to that effect.

Tara Death Toll Climbs To 438

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP)—The estimated death toll from Cyclone Tara jumped Friday to 438 and officials said at least 300 persons are missing.

The toll took a big jump when relief units pushing into the storm-ravaged area north of this resort city reported they found a crude burial site with almost 100 graves.

Pilots scouting the stricken area saw persons waving and pointing to their mouths, indicating hunger. When planes brought food, many knelt in thanks.

Army relief units were nearing Tecpan, one of the hardest-hit towns. They hoped to be able to move from there to Nuxco, a town of 1,000 which was virtually wiped out.

The family spokesman said the children are grown up so that there will be no question involving their custody.

Expert Warns Dancers About Spinal Trouble

NEW YORK (UPI)—A leading safety expert and chiropractor warned Friday that most persons over 20 who attempt "the twist" are just dancing up a storm of spinal trouble.

The new dance craze, which caught on in the teen set over a year ago and is now sweeping the nation's nightclubs, ballrooms and dancing schools, already has resulted in a new spinal ailment—"twister back," they said.

Mrs. Marjorie B. May, home safety director of the greater New York Safety Council, warned that only the strongest backs can withstand "the gambit of convolutions" that go with the twist.

"It's pretty rough on the spine, especially for people who aren't used to athletic exercise," said Mrs. May. "I think that adults and anyone who lives a rather sedentary life should not try the twist."

Dr. Thure Peterson, president of the Chiropractic Institute of New York, said he had observed the twist and found it a definite danger to the spines of all dancers "except the supplest young stars."

Thousands Pay Rayburn Tribute

BONHAM, Tex. (AP) — Sam Rayburn lay in state Friday in a magnificent marble library and the friends and neighbors who idolized him most filed solemnly past in a parting, mournful tribute.

There were tight-lipped men, women dabbing at their eyes, youngsters out of school — all honoring the man who served as speaker of the House for the longest span in history.

These were the people from Rayburn's home town and the rich black countryside in the congressional district will lead a pilgrimage of many of the nation's notables to the funeral at 1:30 p.m. for the speaker who died of cancer Thursday. He was 79 years old.

Friday was the day for the humble folk and the people of Bonham and their neighbors. Rayburn's body was taken from the funeral home in the morning to lie in state for 24 hours in the temple, Georgian-style Sam Rayburn Library which now will be a Rayburn memorial. Friends and associates, who will be the pallbearers, served as an escort.

The plain, gray casket trimmed with silver was placed in the library foyer, a square room with walls of dark Italian marble, glowing with bits of red.

To one side was the bronze bust of Rayburn by Felix de Weldon, sculptor of the famed Iwo Jima memorial in Washington. On the opposite side, to the right of the entrance, were 33 gavels honoring the man who served as speaker of the House for the longest span in history.

The casket blocked the doorway to a duplicate of the office of the speaker in the Capitol at Washington. But there was a glimpse of the glittering chandelier. It once burned gas. Now it uses electricity. And it once hung in the White House and then, in 1907, was moved to the House of Representatives.

Rayburn acquired it when a duplicate was located and the $452,000 library was built here to house his papers and mementoes. To the left of the casket stood an easel of brilliant red carnations, matching those in a sheath over the foot of the open coffin.

To the right was an enormous display of yellow, white and bronze chrysanthemums. Promptly at 9 a.m. the doors were opened. The first of what were to be thousands of sad-faced visitors began filing past, glancing down at the pitifully thin face of a man who held an office which many considered second in power only to that of the president.

Rayburn, who liked dark blue suits, was dressed in one. In the first hour nearly 700 persons walked past, turned down a hall and left by a side door. Most of them paused a moment to sign a register.

Laos Leader Bows, Peace Hopes Rising

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma bowed Friday to pro-Western demands that three-way talks on forming a Laotian coalition government be held in Vientiane and not in rebel territory as he had insisted.

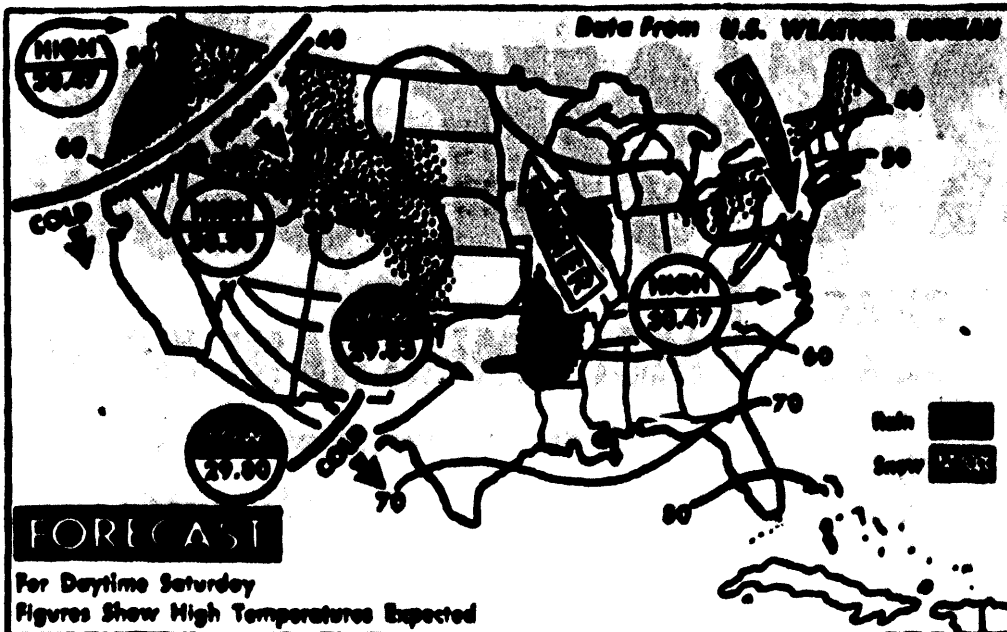

Both Souvanna, premier-designate for the new cabinet, and pro-Western spokesman Gen. Phoumi Nosavan were optimistic about the prospects for agreement. But diplomats warned that many problems remain unsolved.

The talks are scheduled to begin in Vientiane Nov. 24. Souvanna previously had insisted that pro-Western Prince Boun Oum come to the Plain of Jars, where Souvanna shares a headquarters with Communist-backed rebel Souvanna shares a headquarters with Communist-backed rebel Prince Souphanouvong.

Souvanna said the Laotian crisis could be "settled in a matter of days" if the pro-Western faction raises no new barriers. He agreed to the Vientiane meeting, he said, to deny the Boun Oum group "their last excuse for avoiding the conference."

Gen. Phoumi, defense minister in the Boun Oum government, said: "The atmosphere is now completely transformed. I think this meeting will have very happy results."

Diplomatic observers said the site concession offers a basis for cautious optimism, but warned that Laos still has a long way to go before peace can be restored.

BRINGS COMPLAINTS

U.S. Sends Mafia Back To Sicilians

PALERMO, Sicily (AP)—Sicilians are complaining these days that the United States is exporting a dread new Mafia back to this island where the secret society of vengeance was born centuries ago.

It was from Sicily, in the golden era of Italian emigration at the start of the 20th century, that the Mafia first found its profitable way into American gangland.

There, in the fertile ground of the prohibition era and the protective payoff racket, Mafia emigrants toughened up their ancient organization to become a byword for crime and violent death.

But here it had not always been so, nor is it now.

The Mafia still is known on this Mediterranean island as "The Honorable Society." It was founded as a Sicilian protective society against the wrongs of foreign conquerors.

It developed into a secret organization intended to protect local interests of the various and often bitterly divided Sicilian communities.

But ask a Sicilian now. He'll name no names. They never do. But he will tell you plainly it was quiet here for 20 years or more. Now they're coming back.

He refers to the more than 100 Italians, largely from Sicily, who have been deported back to Italy since the war as undesirable citizens or illegal immigrants.

"They're bringing back a new type of Mafia," your Sicilian informant will say. "They're trained in protection rackets and tough new methods we haven't had to deal with here—at least not for many, many years."

The result has been an upsurge of kidnappings, extortions, hijackings and killings that have brought demands before the legislature in Rome for the past year for whole-sale investigation and hard-handed police controls.

In the old days, a century or more ago, the Mafia earned its reputation as "the long arm of the lawless."

The long succession of conquerors who maltreated Sicilians died by violence in carefully plotted vengeance. Even Sicilians were not exempt. The Mafia struck relentlessly at betrayers or supposed betrayers of trust—or of secrecy.

Charles Siragusa, after he returned to America several years ago from a long assignment in Italy as U.S. Bureau of Narcotics agent, testified at a Washington hearing that the Mafia in the United States still had ties in Sicily.

Sicilians insist it is the other way around.

They blame violence and the gangster tactics today on Italian American hoodlums exported back to this island.

Negro City Judge W. M. Harris went through a relatively light docket Friday, fining a 23-year-old local Negro $350 and, at costs or seven months in jail for the illegal use of a weapon. Receiving the sentence was James P. Wesley, of 1810 Short Morton in Monroe.

Fannie Hadley, a Negro woman from Sterlington, age unknown, drew $25 or 25 days on conviction of simple battery.

Seventy-two-year-old Milton Jarrell, Miller Hotel in Monroe, forfeited bond of $25 for public drunkenness.

Cases of theft were nolle prossed in separate instances against 19-year-old Jeanette Pratt, 313 N. 2nd St., and Negro Myrtle Ethridge, 40, of 214 N. Concho.

Also nolle prossed were cases of illegal use of a weapon against William Gullette, 37, of 4200 S. Grand St., and simple battery against a 22-year-old Negro woman, Gracie Smith, 101 Short Layton.

Disturbing the peace charges on Negress Juanita Ward, 27, of 1505 Thomas St., were discharged.

In traffic court, four bonds of $25 were forfeited for speeding, as were seven of $5 for running stop signs. Another case of the latter offense resulted in a fine of $5 or 5 days.

Five dollar bonds were forfeited in one case each of running a red light and failure to yield the right of way. A $25 bond was forfeited for following too closely.

Three dollar bonds were forfeited by two persons for overparking and by one person for driving the wrong way on a one-way street.

Homer Resident Is Injured As Car Overturns

RUSTON Special — A Homer man was critically injured and his younger brother escaped with only a minor injury when their late model car ran off a Lincoln Parish Highway and overturned several times here Friday.

Norris, McElfresh, 24, driver of the car sustained a skull fracture and other undetermined injuries in the smashup on the narrow White Lightning Road seven miles west of Vienna.

His 16-year-old brother, Wallace McElfresh, sustained only a broken thumb.

Norris was thrown from the auto up an embankment and beyond a barbed wire fence into a pine thicket, Lincoln Parish Sheriff's officers said.

A doctor at the Ruston hospital said Norris may have broken ribs, but present conditions prevent further examination at this time.

The pair's parents not identified, were following in another car and reported the accident.

A state trooper at the scene said that apparently the man topped a hill just as he came into the curve, lost control, skidded for some distance and flipped at least twice and possibly more.

Area Football Roundup

Winnfield 1-A King

WINNFIELD, La. (Special) — Winnfield High Tigers completed their first undefeated regular football season in 43 years last night by beating the LaSalle High Tigers of Olla, 41-0, to clinch the district 1-A championship.

Consistently rated the team to beat in the Louisiana state Class A championship playoffs coming up, Coach "Boss" Newman's Tigers needed only 41 points to complete 400 points for their seven victories. They got exactly that many against LaSalle.

Halfback James Collins scored Winnfield's first two touchdowns, one in each of the first and second quarters on short drives of one and seven yards.

Winnfield led the stubborn LaSalle Tigers only 14-0 at the half, and got one more touchdown in the third quarter when quarterback Mike Tinnerella got away on a 27-yard "keeper."

The pressure of the mighty Winn parish machine took a 21-point toll in the final period when fullback Ruston Melton scored from seven yards out, fullback Bob Wyatt returned a pass interception 68 yards to the rival end zone, and halfback Ronnie Parker plunged three yards for the final.

Carroll Long added four extra points, three kicking and one running, and Wyatt ran for the final conversion.

Winnfield collected 14 first downs to three for LaSalle and rushed for 238 yards to LaSalle's 21. The host Tigers completed three of seven passes for 33 yards. LaSalle completed four of 11 for 41 yards and had three intercepted, one for a TD.

Wisner, 7-6

CROWVILLE (Special) — Wisner missed itself for a successful defensive effort on a crucial extra point try late in the fourth period here last night to squeak by Crowville 7-6 in the final grid game for both teams.

Donnell sneaked over from a foot out with 1:11 left to play in the game, closing the gap to one point and giving the home team a chance to tie.

But the PAT run attempt failed.

Crowville had trailed 7-0 since the first quarter when Olan Johnson scored from the three and Sonny Boudrant toed what was to be the deciding extra point.

LaGrange Winner

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — LaGrange's stubborn defenses limited Lafayette to a one-yard net on the ground Friday night as the Bulldogs scored a 21-0 victory in a triple-A football game.

Rusty Fry scored on plunges of one and five yards to pace LaGrange. His first score followed a 73-yard drive, while the second capped a 63-yard march. George Berger went one yard for the third LaGrange score.

David Rogers converted twice, and Harry Arnold once.

Lafayette was ranked seventh in this week's Associated Press poll.

Waterproof Victor

NEWELLTON (Special) — Two Waterproof touchdowns in the last quarter broke open a tight ball game and enabled the Tensas Tigers to defeat the host Newellton 20-7, in the last game of the season for the district 3-B rivals.

The score was tied at 7-7 when halfback Vic Mahoney broke free from 23 yards out to race for the winning touchdown.

For insurance, quarterback Miles Hopkins sneaked over from the one minutes later and halfback Earn Guin ran for the point that completed the scoring.

Quarterback Ralph Cooper pulled a sneak from the Waterproof one to give Newellton a second quarter touchdown, and fullback Allen Perritt ran for the point.

Waterproof's first TD also came in the first quarter on a 21-yard gallop by halfback Howard Walker. Calvin Rabb took a pass from Hopkins for the extra point.

Tallahul Triumphs

DELHI (Special) — The Tallahul High Trojans, defending Louisiana state Class A champions, qualified for the state playoffs again last night when they defeated the Delhi Black Bears, 18-0, to clinch the district 2-A crown.

The triumph means Tallahul will be matched against Winnfield, the 1-A champion, in a bi-district battle next week, and against the Winn parish Tigers in the state playoffs.

Tallahul ended its regular season with a 9-2-0 record, the two defeats coming at the hands of Cooper of Vicksburg in the season opener, three weeks ago, 13-0. Nevill is entering the state double-A playoffs.

Delhi, which could have tied Tallahul for the district with a win last night, finished instead with a 4-2 district record and a 6-3-1 mark for the season.

Istrouma Wins

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Second-ranked Istrouma clinched the Louisiana state Class A championship by whipping Baton Rouge 34-0 Friday night.

Eddie Chenevert starred for Istrouma, gaining 101 yards in carries. He scored the first touchdown in the opening quarter on an eighty-yard burst and set up an eighty-yard burst in the third period with a 65-yard gallop. Benny Griffin took an eighty-yard pass from Ronnie Murphy for the TD.

Melvin Hopper scored the final touchdown in the fourth quarter on a 55-yard punt return. Lamar Labave booted two conversions, punching power in recent bouts.

Rayville, 27-12

MANGHAM (Special) — Rayville high school ground out a convincing 27-12 football win over Mangham High here last night in the season wrapup game for both teams.

Rayville scored first, tallying on a 24-yard pass play from quarterback Hodge O'Neal to Billy Gammill in the opening quarter. The PAT failed.

Mangham came back to knot the score 6-6 in the second period on a one-yard sneak by quarterback Steve Faircloth.

Mangham's point after try failed too.

Rayville went ahead before the half on a 30-yard run by O'Neal and an O'Neal pass to Lee Inchen for the extra point.

It was 13-6 at the half.

Rayville broke the game wide open in the third quarter, blocking a Mangham punt on the five and sending Mark Brown the five yards needed to score on the second play from scrimmage. O'Neal ran the PAT to make it 20-6.

Rayville scored once more, this one coming on a six yard jaunt by Johnny Purvis. Copeland annexed the point after.

A 15-yard pass play from Mangham's Faircloth to Owens was the final touchdown of the game. The PAT try was no good.

Islanders 41, Block 6

SICILY ISLAND, La. (Special) — The Sicily Island Tigers finished their first all-victorious regular football season last night by walloping the Block Bears of Jonesville, 41-6, for a victory that enables Coach Raymond Peace's Bengals to deadlock unbeaten Vidalia for the district 3-B championship.

Sicily Island, 10-0 for the season, and Vidalia, also with a 10-0 record, will enter a playoff for the district championship next Wednesday night at Ferriday.

Albert Krause led Sicily Island's assault last night with three touchdowns and he threw a pass for another. Johnny Young went for two touchdowns, and Jerry Hinton bagged a single.

Krause counted on runs of four, 45, and five yards, the last being set up by a pass he threw to Young.

Young scored the opening touchdown on a 40-yard gallop and later took a pass from Krause for another on a 45-yard play. Hinton counted on a three-yard run. Henry Parker kicked behind five of the TDs.

Block got its lone touchdown in the second quarter on a three-yard run by Arthur Ray King. Sicily Island led at the half, 21-6.

Davis After Record Via Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Halfback Ernie Davis of Syracuse shoots for Jim Brown's Orange all-yards gained record Saturday in leading the East's collegiated football pride against Notre Dame.

The 212-pound senior has a career record of 3,116 yards gained rushing, passing, pass receiving, punt and kickoff returns and via intercepted passes, and has two more games to play. After Notre Dame, the Orangemen wind up at Boston College.

Davis needs 110 more yards to top Brown's record of 3,225 and, as usual, he will be a marked man by the Irish.

After a 51-8 romp over Colgate last week, Syracuse became a unanimous choice for first place in the race for the Lambert Trophy, awarded yearly to the top football team in the East. It has a 2-2 record, losing 22-21 to Maryland and 14-0 to Penn State earlier in the campaign, when handicapped by injuries.

Syracuse, keeping its bowl hopes alive if it wins its final two games, faces Notre Dame after piling up 133 points in its last three victories, including a 28-9 thumping of Pittsburgh. The Irish edged Pitt last week 26-20 to end a three-game losing streak.

Before losing to Navy, North-western and Michigan State — by a total of 15 points — the Irish had opened their season with victories over Oklahoma, Purdue and Southern California.

Promising Rosi, Ortiz Winner Shot At Brown

NEW YORK (AP) — Carlos Ortiz, the No. 2 ranking lightweight contender, meets Paolo Rosi in Madison Square Garden Saturday night in what looms as an action-packed 10-rounder. The winner has been promised a title shot against Joe Brown, the busy Houston slugger.

The bout between the New York residents will be nationally televised (ABC) starting at 10 p.m. EST. Ortiz, originally from Puerto Rico, is an 11-5 favorite to defeat his opponent, a native of Italy.

The 25-year-old Ortiz shows a seven-year professional record of 18 wins, four losses and one no contest. He has knocked out 12 opponents. In three bouts this year, he outpointed Cisco Andrade, Italy's Duilio Lio. The latter set a back cost Ortiz the junior welterweight championship. He had won a 65-yard gallop. Benny Griffin took an eighty-yard pass from Ronnie Murphy for the TD.

Rosi, the 10th-ranked 135-pounder, is 33 years old. But he's shown on a 55-yard punt return. Lamar Labave booted two conversions, punching power in recent bouts.

Ferriday-Winnsboro

WINNSBORO (Special) — The Ferriday Bulldogs cracked over three touchdowns in the first quarter and coasted to a 36-0 victory over the Winnsboro Wildcats here last night.

The game closed the football season for the district 2-A rivals. Halfback Leonard Long went over tackle for the opening touchdown from the 20, and halfback Dennis Jones scored from the 21 on a double reverse. Then fullback Ronald Jeter plunged over from the one. George Fields kicked the point behind Jones' TD, and the Bulldogs led 19-0 at the end of the quarter.

There was no more scoring until Jones broke free for a 58-yard touchdown scamper in the third period. Then the Bulldogs struck for the third period. Then the Bulldogs struck for two more touchdowns in the final period.

Left end Vernon Alford took a pass from quarterback James Walker on a 15-yard scoring play, and Fields again converted. Quarterback Billy Ferencit counted the final TD on a 2-yard keeper.

Winnsboro marked up 12 first downs to 10 for Ferriday, but the Cats couldn't produce a scoring punch. Quarterback Bobby Boyett, 120-pound senior, an aggressive player all season, was outstanding for Winnsboro.

Woodlawn Triumphs

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Fifteen-year-old fullback Tommy Linder led Woodlawn to the district 1-A title Friday night with a 12-7 victory over Bossier City. Woodlawn will play top-ranked Sulphur at a site and date to be determined Saturday night by a coin flip between officials from the two schools.

Linder, who scored both Woodlawn TDs, smashed over from the four in the third period and drove over from the six in the final period.

Bossier came back in the waning moments to score on an 18-yard pass from Ray Shewmake to Rogers Reinowski.

Rugged Steers Go After Top Nemesis TCU

By TED SMITS

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The nation's No. 1 college football team, Texas, meets its No. 1 nemesis, Texas Christian, here Saturday before an expected crowd of 45,000.

Rainy weather is in prospect at least for Friday night.

Despite some notable upsets scored in the past by TCU over Texas, the Longhorns are favored by up to three touchdowns in this Southwest Conference classic.

The two big reasons for this are the fact that Texas has yet to be extended in eight games this year, and the presence in the Texas backfield of Jimmy Saxton, a skinny 164-pounder who has carried the ball 78 times for the amazing total of 706 yards and an average of 9.1.

A victory will put Texas into the Cotton Bowl as host team.

Unbeaten Texas won't forget 6 that 20 years ago it was also undefeated, was rated No. 1 in the land, and headed for the Rose Bowl. TCU scored a stunning 14-7 upset.

Then in 1946, with only an 18-13 defeat by Rice to smirch the record, Texas fell to TCU 14-0.

And in 1959, Texas, unbeaten up to the TCU game, went down to defeat 14-9.

TCU, with a great quarterback in the person of Sonny Gibbs, got off to a flying start this year by beating Kansas 17-16 and tying mighty Ohio State 7-7. After that the Frogs ran into trouble, losing to Arkansas, Texas Tech, Baylor, and UCLA. A victory over Texas would make this a successful season for TCU, however.

Report Says LSU Accepts Orange Bowl

NEW YORK (UPI) — Louisiana State University, the nation's fifth ranked college football team, has tentatively accepted a bid to play in the Orange Bowl game. United Press International learned Friday night.

The Tigers, who earlier this week turned down a bid to the Sugar Bowl, agreed to the Orange Bowl offer contingent on a vote of approval from the university board. The board will meet Saturday, primarily to discuss the bid and either vote for or against accepting it.

LSU thus far this season has beaten seven of eight opponents, losing only to Rice, 16-3, in the opening game.

Since then, the Tigers have beaten Texas A&M, Georgia Tech, South Carolina, Kentucky, Florida, Mississippi and North Carolina. Only two games remain Saturday against Mississippi State and next week against Tulane.

Earlier, Louisiana state declared it was not interested in the Sugar Bowl but said it was open to other offers.

NEVILLE HALFBACK Bill Yerger scattered for about four and a half yards on this play before he was brought down by Ouachita fullback L. E. Traxler in the second quarter of last night's game at Tiger Stadium. Tigers Win Ninth In Row By Wilting Ouachita, 40-6

By KEITH PRICE

World Sports Writer

The surging Neville Tigers used their usual potent offense and still suffering from a broken clock, to wallopingly defeat Ouachita 40-6 in a game that was as much a statement as a victory.

The big victory against the cross-town Lions brought Neville its regular season record to 9-0, and ended Ouachita's campaign late in the second quarter when tackle Bob Duncan pounced on a fumble at the visitor's four.

Two plays later Brant rammed over for his second score. The play came with only 37 seconds remaining in the half, and after a fumble by the Lions, the Tigers would have had a chance to lead 19-0.

But the Lions had different ideas, and after two razzle-dazzle plays they had bounced back with a TD of their own.

GAMBLE ON CONVERSION

Tulane Nips Vanderbilt In Last 30 Seconds, 17-14

By Ed Tunstall

NEW ORLEANS, AP — Tulane gambled for two points on a conversion attempt Friday night and it paid off in a 17-14 victory over Vanderbilt, the Green Waves' first triumph in the Southeastern Conference this season.

A chilled crowd of 15,000 cheered as quarterback Jackie Tompkins passed to halfback Larry McIntyre for the two-point conversion after Dominique had whipped on a 11-yard pass to end Clem Dellinger for the touchdown with 30 seconds left.

McIntyre paved the way for the winning score by rambling 51 yards to the Vandy 11.

Tulane, winning its second game of the season, tucked in another two-point in the final 15 seconds when guard Gus Gonzales tackled Vandy quarterback Jon Cleveland in the Vanderbilt end zone. Before the final 30 seconds he can, the Commodores seemed to have the game well in hand. They had turned a fumble by Tulane's fullback Sammy Camp into a touchdown with just five minutes left to play.

The Commodores, losing their 16th game in eight outings, score in the second period with fullback Jim Johnson setting up the score with a 67-yard burst through the center of the Tulane line that took the ball to the Tulane 13.

Starting quarterback Hank Lesne hit left tackle for three yards and then shot through right tackle from the 10 for the touchdown.

With eight seconds to go in the third period, Tulane punched its first in conference play this season — with Camp rolling around right end for eight yards.

A 51-yard pass from Dominique to Dellinger was the big play in the Greenie scoring march.

Vandy scored its second touchdown with 5 minutes left in the game called for a fair catch of a Vanderbilt punt. Fumbled and guard George McDougall recovered for Vandy on the Tulane 28. Six plays later fullback Billy Crawford slammed through tackle for the score.

Quarterback Grady Wade booted the Vanderbilt conversions while end Charles Connell converted after the first Tulane touchdown.

The small crowd cheered as Tulane coach Andy Piney, under heavy fire from Green Wave alumni, decided to go for the tie.

Dominique shot a pass to the sidelines to McIntyre who shook off one tackler and stumbled into the end zone for the two-point and the victory.

The players swept off the field when the final gun sounded and carried Piney on their shoulders into the end zone.

An alumni splinter group met last week and demanded that Piney be fired.

Northeast Ends Grid Season With Bulldogs

Northeast State and Louisiana Tech ring down the curtain on their 1961 football campaigns with a traditional battle at Ruston tonight at 8 o'clock.

Both clubs are out of the running for the Gulf States Conference title but the Saturday contest could affect the standings. Northeast, 3-6 for the season, is 1-3 in the conference and could tie Tech, 4-4 for the year and 3-2 in the conference, for fourth place with a victory. A Tech victory would put Northeast in the league cellar should Southwestern upset McNeese Saturday.

Coach Jack Rowan's Northeast team will be looking for its second triumph in nine games with the Techmen. Northeast won, 7-0, in 1956. Louisiana Tech came out on top in 1953, 1954, 1955, 1957, 1958, 1959 and 1960. The 1960 contest was one of the most thrilling of the series, with Tech edging the underdog Indians, 20-13, on long a Mickey Slaughter-to-Tom Causey pass in the closing minutes.

Causey is gone but Slaughter is back with a new battery mate, end Jerry Griffin, who has pulled in 43 tosses this season. Slaughter has completed 74 of 117 passes this season for 747 yards to lead the GSC in total offense and passing. Stopping the Alexandria junior shapes up as the game's toughest chore for underdog Northeast.

Sophomore fullback Willie Ragan rates as Northeast's chief treat. He has run for 378 yards, one of the league's top totals, despite seeing only kicking duty in last week's Arlington game. Ragan, like several other Indians, has been slowed by injuries but will play.

Other Northeast players whose action will be limited because of injuries or flu are guard Terry Brunet, and centers Bob Tatum and Tommy Beaubie. Halfback Donnie Brunson and guard Joe McClain are not expected to suit out for the game because of injuries.

Senior Don Wattigny is expected to open at quarterback for Northeast with freshmen Ronnie Mierick and Mundy Breazeale also slated for action.

Ken Newton and Al Ott will be the Northeast halfbacks and Ken Douglas will be in for most of the action in the backfield on defense.

Boston Tops Oakland On Rebound Grab

BOSTON (AP)—Boston defeated Oakland 20-17 Friday night when defensive end Leroy Moore made an end zone recovery of a punt which earned off the goal post in the final period.

The victory kept the Patriots in the thick of the Eastern Division title race in the American Football League.

Oakland's Wayne Crow kicked from his end zone and the ball glanced off the upright, flipped backward in the air and rolled toward the corner. Moore, a 235-pounder, outraced a defender to smother the ball just before it rolled over the end zone side line.

Until then it appeared George Fleming's 16-yard field goal early in the third quarter would provide an upset triumph for the two-touchdown underdogs from the West.

Tommy Flores passed Oakland into the lead, hitting on scoring tosses of 31 yards to Charley Hardy and five to Doug Asad, both in the second quarter.

Moore's decisive play was a fitting climax for the Patriots' defensive platoon which earlier had put the team in position for one of Gino Capelletti's pair of field goals and had Oakland hanging on the ropes.

The Boston offensive unit let the Raiders get off the hook. The Patriots marched 76 yards to score on Ron Burton's six-yard burst from the opening kickoff.

Women Engineers Geared For Jobs In New Attire

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK — "If thinking is unfeminine, then it's unfeminine to be an engineer," bristles a diminutive blonde who looks more like a fashion model than a tunnel builder she often is.

Alva Matthews is a part of a 700-member organization which can resist is fashion, the local 80-member group commissions Baba, a one-name young New York couturier, to engineer some garments that suit their specific needs.

Before modeling the costumes at a fund-raising fashion show recently, four members tested them in their proper atmosphere. The testing committee consisted of:

ALVA MATTHEWS — Married to an industrial engineer, the 27 years old civil engineer, has her masters, is studying for her doctorate at Columbia, and is currently researching to determine what kinds of structures will offer the best protection against atomic attack.

Her chosen garment is a dignified green check jacket suit with divided skirt which offers comfortable transition from field to office.

BERNADINE WESLEY — The Brooklyn widow with two teen-age children is an electronics engineer designing airport control equipment, streamlining weather instruments, as well as radar installation devices with satellite application.

Her lab uniform is a white wash and wear culotte costume.

PHYLLIS IACAMPO — At home she is Mrs. Joseph Iacampo. At the office in Elizabeth, N. J., the designing and drafting engineer concerns herself with timing devices and their eventual application to missiles.

She donned a green belted pullover with jersey pants so that she will literally not tangle with machinery. For drafting board work Phyllis wears a soft wrap-around smock kept free of ink with plastic covering the bodice and part of the sleeves.

MARJORIE LEIGH — Native New Yorker, with a masters in chemical engineering, determines the supply and demand of energy sources for a giant oil company.

For her survey work and a costume wonderful for a civil engineer, too, is a stop-red-dan-ger-resistant lined with pockets. For lab work she puts on a chemical resistant form-fitting smock.

Cadeville HD Club Discusses Civil Defense

Radioactive Fall-out was the topic of a talk given by the parish agent, Mrs. Audrey Dawson, to members of the Cadeville Home Demonstration Club at a meeting held on November 14, in the home of Mrs. John Biard.

Mrs. Harold Roberts, president, presided over the business session. Twelve members and one guest were present for the roll call by Dr. Beatrice Hicks, president of the secretary.

END RECORDS SMUGGLING

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Label it "spaghetti" to pass customs censors, bill it as a hit by French songstress Edith Piaf and you could sell the theme song of the Hollywood-Israeli film epic "Exodus" in this Arab country—until the cops caught on. The newspaper Orient reports the record sold briskly before the local boycott of Israeli office found it was being smuggled in.

Your Baby And Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

"Dear Mrs. Eldred:

"My baby has been eating table food since she was 8 months old, despite the fact that she had no teeth. Now, at 10½ months, she has three teeth and weighs 22½ pounds.

"She still has baby cereal for breakfast, but I mix fruit with it. At lunch, she eats regular soup, jello, fruit cocktail, bits of banana, canned fruits cut up, seedless grapes, cubed American cheese or lunch meat, and one inch slices of bread. She eats most of these foods with her fingers.

"Dinner may include bite-size portions of squash, peas, beans, meat and potatoes. She likes practically anything we have, but if I mash it, she gags or spits it out. In addition she has vitamins and milk. She drinks only two bottles (morning and night) and whatever amount she wants from her glass at mealtime.

WAS ALLERGIC

"She has always been allergic to certain foods and could have only about six different baby foods. However, since she has been on table food, she seems to be able to eat everything except orange juice or spaghetti sauce. When we are away from home, I still give her a can of strained vegetables and fruit.

"I started her on these foods at this age because I felt I waited too long with my older daughter. She was 18 months before she would accept such foods without gagging. She is still a poor eater at 2½. I started the baby as soon as she was old enough to sit well in her high chair." —Mrs. D.R. MRS. ELDRED SAYS:

Though some children will not accept the coarser foods at the early age your baby did, she is an excellent example of one who is thriving on them. It is true that the younger a child is given such food, the more enjoyable they seem to find them.

IMITATE ELDERS

These children are less apt to be problem eaters and tend to feed themselves with ease. This may be because they are treated equally at the family table. Thus they attempt, in their own way, to be like their elders.

Babies are able to handle minute bites without teeth. Most cooked foods are soft and require no more chewing than they are able to do with their gums. The few front teeth a baby may have at one year are not too important in mastication.

If the family fare does not include highly-seasoned dishes or rich desserts, there is no reason why a baby of this age cannot share it.

If you would like to have our 25-cent booklet, "All About Feeding — from six months to two years," send 25 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Incidence Of Polio Continues Decline

ATLANTA (UPI)—The nation's incidence of polio, already at a record low for modern times, continued to drop last week.

The communicable disease center here reported a total of only 29 new cases in the entire nation for the week ended Nov. 11. This was seven less than the previous week in a continuing decline that has been underway since late September.

Escapee Is Shot By Deer Hunter

FT. LEONARD WOOD, Mo. (AP)—Two escapees from the post stockade Friday made the mistake of hiding in a wooded area during deer hunting season. One of them was shot by a hunter who took him for a deer.

Wounded was Pvt. Stanley F. Treon, 18, of St. Louis, Mo. He was taken to the post hospital.

His companion, Pvt. Dennis Lee, 20, of Chicago, was not wounded. Jarret Iverson, 31, of Redmond, Ore., told authorities he saw some seven less than the previous week in a continuing decline that has been underway since late September. scream just after he fired.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: We have four school-age children. The trend these days seems to be to load kids up with homework until they can't see straight.

In our house the usual procedure is this: After the supper dishes are done my wife helps the girls with their homework and I supervise the boys. These kids aren't stupid, but they can't seem to get by without our constant guidance. We've tried cutting down on the help and the results have been disastrous.

By bedtime my wife is so full of historical facts and I'm so dizzy from algebraic equations that any thought of romance is out of the question. So, the question boils down to this: Do we deny ourselves or our children? You decide. —MIDNIGHT OIL

Dear Oil: If cupid is being knocked out every night by homework your kids are getting entirely too much help.

One hour of supervision, five evenings a week, should be plenty. Beyond that you do your children an injustice—not to mention yourselves.

Dear Ann Landers: Am I the typical jilted girl or is my case different?

In April my steady and I broke up. He said I was too possessive. He wasn't particularly interested in dating others but he wanted to spend more time with the fellows. He still shares my locker at school (we're both seniors now) and he even dates me once in a while.

Well, here it is November and I'm still crazy about him. He's given up all ambition for college and every weekend he gets drunk with the fellows.

Maybe if I show him I have confidence in him he will straighten around. Or do you think I am carrying the torch in vain? —EVY

Dear Evy: The only girl who looks good carrying a torch is the Statue of Liberty.

A boy whose idea of a big time is to get drunk every weekend is bad news—so consider yourself lucky. A bargain he wasn't.

Dear Ann Landers: My niece is planning a winter wedding, and she doesn't know beans about wedding etiquette. She thinks everyone who is invited to the wedding should also be invited to the reception and dinner.

Are the men supposed to wear dark pants and white coats in the winter? I say no. The groom says yes. If the women wear long dresses do they also wear hats? The bride-to-be says the groom's folks are supposed to buy flowers for the bridesmaids. The groom's mother says the bride's folks pay for everything.

Please help us untangle some of these problems. —AUNTIE

Dear Auntie: You need more help than I can give you in a single letter. I suggest a personal consultation with someone whose business it is to plan weddings.

I can tell you, however, that it's not necessary to invite to dinner all the guests who are invited to the wedding. And white coats in the winter are not proper—ditto hats with long dresses. Any florist can tell you who pays for which flowers.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experiences of thousands of teenagers if you read "Ann Landers' "booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

UTILITIES BILL STEEP

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP)—For a month's water, power and telephone service the bill a local citizen has recently received seemed pretty stiff—$10.00. Explanation: A blunder—and not the first—by the new electronic brain computer making up the city's utility bills.

"Now I can sing and tell you stories. Come in and see me and listen to me sing 'So Sleepy' a lullabye and tell you a fairy tale. My clothes are just as beautiful as ever and I know you must need new ones for me."

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 11-18

Former Pupils Pay Rayburn Final Tribute

Dial, Tex. (AP)—The men and women Sam Rayburn taught say they consider it an honor to have been pupils of the man who became speaker of the House of Representatives.

The students are now grandmothers and grandfathers in this one-store village in southeast Panhandle County.

Rayburn, who died Thursday in nearby Bonham, taught in a two-room school here in 1905 and 1906. A new community building now stands on the site.

Still in their home community are C. O. Charles, Zolzie Hall, Lloyd McKee, Ray Taylor, Mrs. Martin Joyce and Mattie Lou Cooper.

Rayburn was here in his early 20s and he taught Charles and

Mrs. Joyce to read and write. "He was one of the greatest teachers I ever had," said Charles. "I consider it an honor," Mrs. Joyce said of having had Rayburn as her first teacher. The day of Rayburn's death was Mrs. Joyce's 64th birthday anniversary.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

'Old Brains'

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

To clean up the mess Maj. Gen. John C. Fremont left in Missouri, President Lincoln sent Henry Wagner Halleck, known in old Army circles as "Old Brains." Fremont had been relieved of command early in November. The department was riddled by army contract scandals and the top officers were fighting among themselves when they were not fighting Fremont.

Halleck was a major general. He also was a Phi Beta Kappa, a lawyer, a banker, an ex-president of a railroad, an expert on mining law, the author of "Elements of Military Art and Science," a standard work on international law, and translator of Jomini's "Political and Military Life of Napoleon," which was every Civil War general's bible.

In addition to all that, Halleck was a West Point graduate, third in the 31-member class of 1839.

Physically he was pop-eyed, flabby, nearly bald and wore scraggly side whiskers. Also he was surly, crafty and intelligent. He was an able administrator, but an atrocious fighting man. He had a curious nervous habit of scratching his elbows while thinking.

Before the Civil War was over he would go farther than any other Union general except Ulysses S. Grant, a man whom Halleck disliked and harried in the early days of the war.

Born in Westerville, N.Y., in 1815, Halleck so hated farm work that he ran away to his maternal grandmother.

She sent him to Union College at Schenectady, N.Y., where he was graduated with honors. From there he went to West Point and was commissioned as an officer in the Corps of Engineers.

In 1845, he went to France where he inspected fortifications and talked to two of Napoleon's marshals.

Back home, he wrote "Elements of Military Art and Science," which became must reading for army officers, regular and militia.

When the Mexican War broke out, Halleck was sent to California on a ship around Cape Horn, a seven-month trip. Instead of whiling away the time playing poker with the other officers, Halleck used the trip to translate Jomini.

He saw little action in California and still less of a future in the army. By 1854 he was a captain and studying law. Then he resigned and began to practice.

He branched out into mining, construction and became a major on in that vein of Napoleonic language which Civil War generals liked so well. The recruits published his work on international law which remained a standard text for the rest of the century.

So, on paper at least, Halleck was the man who could repair Fremont's errors.

He arrived in St. Louis on November 18, 1861. The next day he assumed command.

One day later—the 20th—he wrote his first general order and put his foot in his mouth.

Fremont had made his first big mistake by proclaiming as free the slaves of Missouri Confederates who were bearing arms against the Union.

Halleck did almost the same thing. He ordered that no fugitive slaves be admitted into Union lines. They were being used as spies by the Confederates, he said.

That was only one paragraph of an otherwise business-like order tightening security but it was the one on which Radical Republicans seized and exploited. "Friends of Fremont, angry over his dismissal and trying to make abolition of slavery a Union war aim, along with preservation of the nation, pushed the fight. They succeeded in getting the issue into Congress, where in December the House came within 14 votes of censuring Halleck."

"Old Brains" had other troubles, too.

One was martial law. His legal mind could find no basis for the nominal martial law which had existed in St. Louis for some time.

He bombarded Washington by telegraph for 10 days before Lincoln sent him a formal document of authority.

On the military side, Halleck had two problems — Missouri, a ferment of guerrilla warfare, and the Cairo-Paducah sector, where Union and confederate armies were threatening each other with more shadow than substance.

When Fremont was relieved of command in Springfield, Mo., Brig. Gen. David Hunter, his successor, pulled the Union army back to Rolla, Mo., a railroad and Sealtah.

Confederate Gen. Sterling Price followed the Union retreat with his army, recruiting as he went. His movements baffled the Federal officers. First they would report Price moving north, then south, then back north again with anywhere from 20,000 to 50,000 troops.

Price published a flamboyant appeal for recruits. "Awake, my countrymen," he said, "we are in that vein of Napoleonic language which Civil War generals liked so well. The recruits flowed in."

The Confederate movements were mostly sound and fury, it would be spring before any decisive fighting occurred but nearly every day saw some skirmishing in central Missouri.

As far as action went, the situation in Kentucky and along the Mississippi River from Cairo, Ill., down was about the same.

Gen. C. F. Smith, Federal commander at Paducah, Ky., was beginning to probe the two river arteries which pierced the Confederacy — the Tennessee and the Cumberland. The Confederates were building two forts to seal off these rivers, Fort Henry on the Tennessee and Fort Donelson on the Cumberland, both just south of the Kentucky line in Tennessee.

The Tennessee and the Cumberland run parallel north across western Kentucky, the Tennessee flowing into the Ohio River at Paducah and the Cumberland at Smithland, a few miles east. At some places the rivers were only from 12 to 15 miles apart.

Fort Henry was only 14 miles west of Fort Donelson.

The Cumberland River turns east in northern Tennessee, but the Tennessee River runs south all the way through the state into Alabama, before turning east. But the Cumberland when it turns east flows past Nashville, which in 1861 rapidly was becoming a Confederate arsenal and munitions center.

Both sides recognized the military value of these water highways.

Who among the Federal commanders first thought of going up (south) these rivers to attack the mid-Confederacy is disputed.

Smith was one of the first. In October he had gone up the Tennessee on the gunboat Conestoga and looked over Fort Henry. He also had reports on the progress of Fort Donelson on the Cumberland.

Halleck's department ended at the Cumberland but Fort Donelson was on the west bank which put it in his territory.

It was in this territory, come late winter, that Grant, the general disliked, would make the first big move of the Civil War in the West while Halleck scratched his elbows in St. Louis.

Ice was a precious commodity during the Civil War and the Union medical department rationed it — one pound per patient per day south of Washington, one-half pound north of Washington.

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a college junior and my roommate is a guy from Texas. He keeps a shoe box filled with plain, ordinary dirt under his bed. Nobody is allowed to move it because it is "Texas" dirt. Do you think this guy is all there? —NOT FROM TEXAS

DEAR NOT: Of course he is. It doesn't matter if he's got dirt "under" him or over him, once a Texan—always a Texan.

DEAR ABBY: Every girl needs someone to talk to, but I am afraid I've been talking to the wrong person. She is my aunt. She is almost 50, and has never been married. She claims all men are no good, and has drummed that idea into my head ever since I can remember. I idolize my aunt, and have grown up believing everything she has told me. I am 25 and not married, although I have been called "beautiful," and I am constantly being asked out.

My aunt made me promise I wouldn't date a man until she met him. I kept that promise. I realize now she has found fault with every man who showed an interest in me. I recently met a man I could love. I broke my promise, and have been seeing him. I am afraid to introduce him to my aunt because I know she'll tear him down like she did the others. Should I introduce him and clear my conscience, or not? —MIND OF MY OWN

DEAR ABBY: Your aunt sounds like a player who never made the team, but is right in there interpreting passes. By all means, introduce him to your aunt. But tell her how you feel about him and ask her not to blow the whistle on this until she has seen him in action.

DEAR ABBY: Someone who is so close to me in my family is badly in need of dental care and we don't know how to broach the subject. We are all very fastidious and this problem is fast changing our attitude toward this person. We fear it will be a hindrance in his finding employment in keeping with his abilities. Please advise us as it is causing us a great deal of anguish. —ANGUS

DEAR ANGUS: The person who is responsible for bringing this man into your family should tackle the very delicate assignment and do it now. The man in need of dental care probably is aware of it, but has put it off, because used to the condition and is hoping no one else notices.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TWO ACTORS — one stage, one screen — provided the newspapers with the most interesting mystery stories of the past few days. One, Robert Goulet, was all the way out in far Hollywood when he learned that the lady who was occupying his New York flat had been arrested by the local police for alleged larceny, and Robert explained her presence in his pad by saying she was "a fan" who had been to see "Camelot" five times and could hum the whole score of the show. "Golly, I saw the score by heart, but it never occurred to me to move in on Paul Chambers." There were a case of Sal Mineo, who received two tickets for alleged speeding on the Henry Hudson Parkway at 7:45 a.m. and at 7:50 a.m. The quiz question none of the news stories answered was "What was Sal doing on the Henry Hudson Parkway at 7:45 in the MORNING?" In California, you'd figure he was on his way to work at the studio, but in New York? At 7:45 a.m.? That just isn't an actor's time of day in these parts.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dulles

ATTACKS OF DIARRHEA

Most attacks of diarrhea are more annoying than serious. The cause never is determined and your guess is as good as any as to whether that last hamburger or a virus is responsible. X-ray, stool studies, and other tests are recommended when the condition persists, returns periodically, or represents a change in bowel pattern.

It is surprising how many people develop diarrhea when emotionally upset. The bowel responds to psychic disturbances by becoming as agitated as the brain during periods of stress. The condition subsides when the person calms down. It may persist if the psychogenic factor is not recognized or the individual becomes alarmed at the prospect of having cancer or amebic dysentery.

It was common practice years ago to take an enema or cathartic to eliminate the irritants that were causing diarrhea. This unreasonable method no longer is advised because flushing via irrigation does not eliminate as much as does a single diarrheal evacuation. Cathartics are even more unreasonable because they add chemical irritation to the inflamed intestine.

The sulfonamides and antibiotics control diarrhea of bacterial origin. There are several products that check the number of movements. Lomotil and Sorbol are newcomers. The former is a synthetic narcotic with atropine and relieves acute and chronic diarrhea. The latter is recommended for diarrhea of nervous origin.

Bismuth powders coat and protect the irritated intestinal wall. Claylike materials such as kaolin absorb toxins whereas psyllium tends to gelify the intestinal contents and thus ease discomfort caused by fluid diarrhea.

Paregoric is an old standby. It reduces pain by lessening spasm and the current of fluid thru the intestine. Diet also is important; avoid roughage and substitute smoothage.

MORE CALCIUM NEEDED

M. L. writes: Can anything be done for osteoporosis? Are some foods more beneficial than others? Is there a wonder drug for this disease? Such a weakness overcomes me. My legs will hardly hold me up.

REPLY

Osteoporosis, a bone thinning disease, is caused principally by excessive calcium loss. The spine and weight bearing joints are involved usually. At least 30 per cent of the victims are women past the menopause; the majority of the others are older. Consider a diet high in calcium, including milk and ample proteins. A mixture of male and female hormones is helpful. Steroids such as cortisone should not be used because they may aggravate osteoporosis by increasing the elimination of calcium. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this bone disease.

TWIN TOES

Mrs. A. R. B. writes: My 21 month old twins walk on their toes. What makes them do this?

REPLY

Habit, if the feet otherwise are normal. Have the children examined by your physician.

ULCER IN CHILD

E. P. writes: What would cause a peptic ulcer in a 3-year-old girl to bleed?

REPLY

Bleeding occurs when an ulcer enlarges and erodes a blood vessel, regardless of age.

TOE TOUCHING

Mrs. O. S. writes: It is harmful in any way for a woman of 37 to touch her toes by bending 50 times a day?

REPLY

No—and more power to her.

CALCIUM AND ARTHRITIS

W. K. writes: Will calcium tablets help arthritis?

REPLY

No. There is no deficiency of calcium in arthritis and this mineral does not relieve pain.

PREFERS OLD STANDARDS

Royal Artist Wars On Street Lights

LONDON (AP)—Cecil Beaton—high apostle of elegance and good taste—is going to fight an aesthetic campaign using stink bombs as ammunition if necessary.

The enemy is modern street lights.

"I dislike them intensely," said the artist, photographer and author in an interview Friday, "and I will not have any of these terrible gibbet lamp standards going up outside my house."

Beaton, royal photographer and designer, lives in London's exclusive Pelham Place. Pelham Place is in the royal Borough of Kensington.

The Kensington Council is planning to erect modern concrete posts with ultramodern lighting in

General Clay Gives Berlin Wall Views

PARIS (UPI) — Gen. Lucius Clay, the special representative of President Kennedy in Berlin, was quoted by a newspaper Friday as saying he thought the allies might have acted immediately when the Berlin wall was erected.

In an interview in Berlin with the newspaper Le Figaro, Clay said he did not believe that a "similar" action taken within 24 hours after the wall was built, would have touched off a war.

"However I add," he said, "it is very easy to be critical in looking back and not having been present I cannot be certain."

Clay did not describe his "similar" action. But said it would have forced the Russians to take their responsibilities as the recent case at Friedrichstrasse.

The Friedrichstrasse case to which he referred apparently was the incident last month where U.S. Army tanks moved up to the border and American military police escorted Army - accredited vehicles through the Communist-controlled checkpoint without showing identity papers to the East Berlin authorities. The Soviet Union also moved tanks up in the border, creating an extremely tense situation. The Soviets finally withdrew, and the Communist East Berliners quit pressing to Western identification papers, in next November's elections. He said the United States and its allies should be shown only terms after that.

Vinson Only One Shooting For Rayburn Record

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Carl Vinson, 77, D-Ga., is the only member within shooting distance of the late Sam Rayburn's record for House service.

Rayburn died of cancer at 79 Thursday after serving longer in the House than any man — 48 years, 8 months, and 12 days.

As of today, Vinson has been a member for 47 years and 14 days. Except for Rayburn, he has served longer than any man in history. He needs only 30 months more to break Rayburn's record.

Vinson has decided to seek reelection to another two-year term in next November's elections. He has given no reason to believe that he will not seek additional terms after that.

U.N. Troops Seek Killers Of Italians

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Congo government agreed Friday to joint measures with the United Nations to punish the mutinous army murderers of 13 Italian airmen and to investigate whether leftist Antoine Gizenga played a role in the butchery.

U.N. troops were flown in to reinforce the 200-man garrison already at Kindu in Kivu Province where about 80 mutinous Congolese got beyond control Saturday and killed the unarmed airmen. The Italians were on a U.N. transport mission.

U.N. orders were to seal off the Kindu area and disarm the 1,000 or so Congolese troops who once formed part of Gizenga's army when he set up a Soviet-supported rebel rule at Stanleyville in Oriental Province.

The encirclement and disarmament was to permit a "fair investigation and stern punishment" of the guilty, the United Nations said.

Diplomatic sources have reported — and the Congo government fears — that Gizenga, the political heir of the late Premier Patrice Lumumba, stirred up the troop rebellion in new and open defiance of the central government and the United Nations.

Government sources said he was in Kindu last Tuesday—before it was known the Italians had been killed. Gen. Victor Lundula, Gizenga's former army chief, and Interior Minister Christopher Gbenye, met him in his Kindu hideout briefly that day—and almost immediately were run out of town by unruly troops.

They had gone to Kindu from Leopoldville to attempt to settle the mutiny and seek the release of the Italians.

The sources believe Gizenga declared at that time his defiance of the central government which he once consented to join as vice premier. Whether he was in Kindu when the mutiny broke out on Saturday is not known positively by officials.

The government has reports, however, that he left Stanleyville by road last week and could have been in Kindu.

The government says that if he did not actually order the troops to rebel he hoped to benefit from the lack of discipline in order to improve his own position.

The revulsion at the brutality of the killings is so strong among government officials that the usual vehement objections, raised when it was proposed before to disarm Congo troops, have not been made.

The government seems to have accepted the strong measures proposed by the United Nations as inevitable and even desirable.

NOT HURT SERIOUSLY

Horse Balks, First Lady Takes Spill

MIDDLEBURG, Va. (AP)—

photographs of Mrs. Kennedy before.

First Lady Mrs. John F. Kennedy had a spill Friday when her horse balked at a jump while she was riding with the Piedmont Hunt near Upperville, Va.

She gamely got back up within minutes and continued hunting throughout the day, witnesses to the incident related.

A close friend said it was nothing serious and the White House reported later that Mrs. Kennedy "is fine."

The spill occurred on the huge Upperville estate of Paul Mellon, from the wealthy Pittsburgh family. Mrs. Kennedy was riding her own horse Bit of Irish.

Mrs. Kennedy's neighbor and friend, Eve Fout, said a photographer had tried to take Mrs. Kennedy's picture as she approached a rail fence and the horse had balked. Mrs. Kennedy just slipped off, but "got right back on," Mrs. Fout said.

But photographer Marshall P. Hawkins, of Warrenton, Va., who said he was the only one around taking pictures, reported he was standing about 40 feet away and saw Mrs. Kennedy's mount "refusing coming into the jump. I saw she was in trouble, that's how I was able to get the picture."

Hawkins said, "The horse stopped but she didn't." Mrs. Kennedy went over the horse's head, landed across the rail fence and the fall "knocked the wind out of her a little bit," Hawkins related. But she remounted in three or four minutes and continued with the hunt, he added.

Hawkins, a professional photographer, is experienced at hunt picture-taking and has made

U.S. DEFENSE MISSILE

Minuteman Test Major Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Minuteman missile sprang from a pit Friday and streaked 3,000 miles in a major success which gave the United States a big boost toward pushbutton war capability.

This was the first successful firing of the missile from the steel and concrete hole—similar to those which will enable operational Minutemen to survive a nuclear attack and strike a retaliatory blow.

All three missiles have a range of more than 6,000 miles.

A mushroom of flame and smoke preceded the missile out of its 90-foot-deep silo. The nose of the 58-foot projectile poked through the smoke cloud and streaked into the sky. All three stages fired as planned.

In the pit, the missile rested on a hydraulically-operated rig which hung suspended on metal straps 17 feet from the bottom of the shaft. This system will permit Minuteman to remain pointed on its intended trajectory even though a nearby nuclear attack designed to withstand all but a direct atomic hit. The lid is moved back by remote control signal before launching.

But Friday's success put the program back on schedule, and Phillips said the test-firing tempo will accelerate sharply.

When the Minuteman is operational, the Air Force plans a huge missile buildup. The first three 40-missile squadrons will be based on the Montana prairie near Malmstrom Air Force Base. A total of 600 Minutemen is planned by 1964, with defense officials considering an eventual force of 2,500.

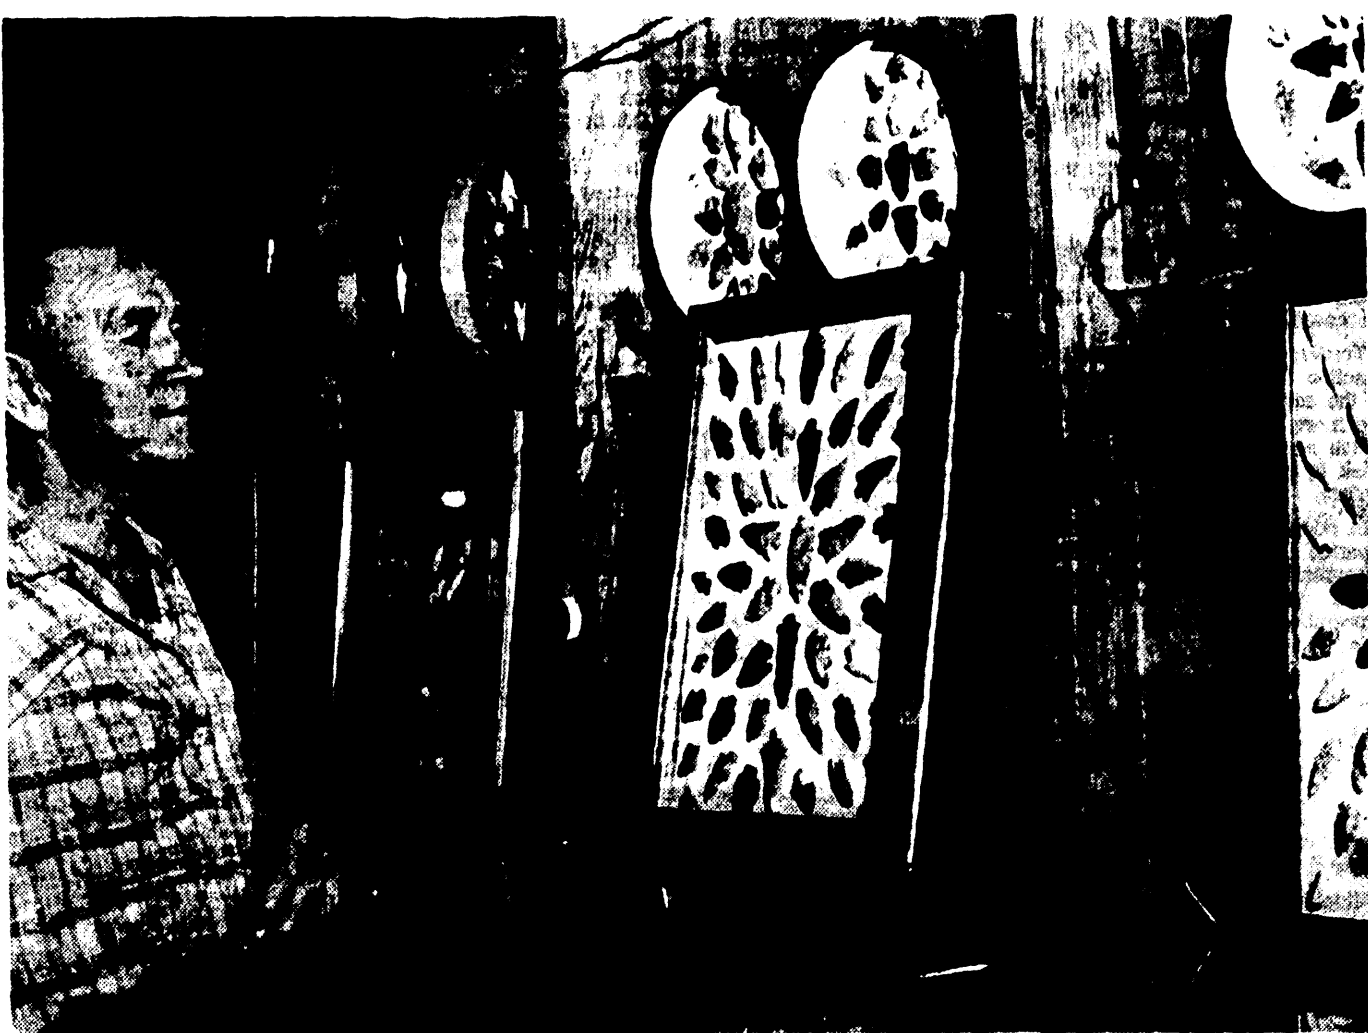

Storable indefinitely without attention, Minuteman can be fired by the simple turning of a key in a control center miles away. That post apocalyptic scene will go to John W. McCormack of Massachusetts.

Minuteman is the first U.S. intercontinental-range rocket powered by solid fuel, which also is used in the Navy's Polaris. This easy to handle propellant provides an escape from much of the complexity that has forced the liquid fuel Atlas and Titan ICBMs to their huge size. Minuteman's nuclear warhead will be smaller than Atlas or Titan, but will compensate for this in numbers and greatly reduced cost.

AFTER SEA TRAGEDY

Yacht Captain Takes Own Life

MIAMI (UPI) — A sailing club had doubts about the misadventure of a yacht captain who survived a hap. Coast Guard investigators thinking that apparently claimed called in Harvey for questioning. The lives and aroused official sus- and a 24-hour police guard was taken killed himself Friday just stationed outside Terry Jo's room. 24 hours after the only other Harvey was picked up by a known survivor was found.

This left 11-year-old Terry Jo, brother, Brian Duperrault, and Duperrault of Green Bay, Wis. is the only known living person who can tell of the events leading up to the sinking of the sailboat. Terry Jo was found, but after Sunday following a severe tropical storm in the Bahamas.

The frail little girl was picked up by a passing merchant ship death when the freighter discovered 25 miles northeast of Miami dropped her small raft bobbing in Thursday after surviving 35 days choppy seas.

Police said Harvey left a suicide note, but that it discussed only financial arrangements to be made after his death.

DEMAND CONGO ACTION

Italians Boiling Over Massacre

ROME (UPI)—Communist and separate Communist and right-wing deputies brawled in parliament Friday over the massacre of 13 Italian airmen by Congo troops. Students demonstrated outside against the "Communist-supported cannibals."

Deputies of the MSI neo-Fascist party demanded that the government smash into the Congo on its own with force to find and wipe out the "cannibals" they said were supported by pro-Communist Antoine Gizenga, political heir to Patrice Lumumba.

In the senate, Vincenzo Menghi, one of Premier Antonio Fanfani's Christian Democratic party members, suggested the United Nations "occupy all the territory of the Congo and expel native and foreign political intriguers."

There was bitter denunciation of the 200 Malayan U.N. troops in Kindu who did nothing to prevent the Italians' slaughter. By coincidence, Malay Prime Minister Tun Abdul Rahman passed through Rome by air en route to London. He said he was "shocked" by the massacre.

An eight-column banner on the afternoon Giornale D'Italia demanded "Why didn't the Maylayans move in defense of the attacked aviators?"

Communists and right-wing deputies traded insults and near blows in a turbulent parliament session. Chamber of deputies ushered arms on the floor to

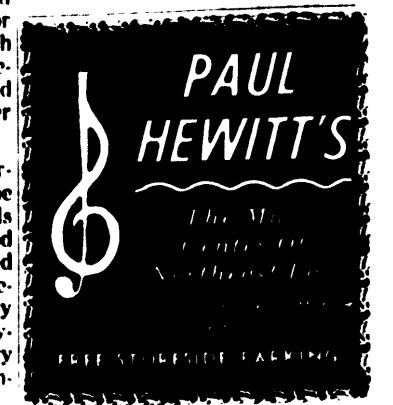

Confessed Sex Slayer Enters Plea Of Guilty

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — A baby-faced confessed sex slayer of four women pleaded guilty Friday to the rape-killing of Roman Catholic welfare worker Carol Roman and calmly told in court how he beat and choked her to death.

Hugh Bion Morse, 31, changed his plea from innocent to guilty on a second degree murder charge that carries a life imprisonment penalty on conviction in Minnesota.

Morse also had signed confessions admitting the sex murders of two women in Spokane, Wash., and a divorcee in Birmingham, Ala. Washington and Alabama have capital punishment. Minnesota has no death penalty.

Judge Robert V. Resnick ordered a psychiatric examination of Morse, who admitted he had raped other women, molested little girls and frightened scores of women with lewd telephone calls.
